

Detailed Schedule for Wednesday, July 8th

PAGE	TIME	EVENT
	1:00 - 7:00pm	Registration at Meyers Center
	3:00 - 5:00pm	Poster set-up in Hall of Innovation
see Tab 0 3	5:00 - 6:30pm	Welcome- President Patricia Skinner Hall of Innovation Best Practices Poster Session (with hors d'oeuvres) LOCATION: Myers Center Cafeteria
4	6:30 - 7:00pm	Academia Nuts LOCATION: Myers Center Auditorium

HALL OF INNOVATION: BEST PRACTICES POSTER SESSION

Wednesday, July 8, 5:00-6:30pm

LOCATION: Myers Center Cafeteria

Purpose

The Hall of Innovation at the Process Education Conference is a venue for sharing the “what, why, and how” regarding specific innovations that the presenters have used in their own teaching and learning. Thus, the Hall of Innovation is intended to be a catalyst for discussion about tools and techniques that have had significantly impact on attainment of high quality educational outcomes by students, faculty/staff, and organizations.

The Hall of Innovation poster session provides a forum for presenters to highlight their courses/programs and is an easy way to share practical ideas for using different aspect of process education in a venue designed for interactivity. These are not alternative forms of presenting papers, but something like a combination between a resource fair and a poster session.

At this conference, We have given the following prompts to presenters for sharing their innovations:

Name of Innovation
Presenter/Discipline/Institution
What is it?
What are the benefits?
Why I got started?
How do you implement it?
What resources are on display?

Benefits

- opportunity for extended discussion with interested viewers
- networking with colleagues (new and old) as well as potential collaborators
- materials can be kept on display throughout the conference, triggering lively interaction during breaks

WELCOME ADDRESS
Dr. Patricia Skinner, President, Gaston College
5:00pm

INNOVATIONS ON DISPLAY
(as of July 6)

Applications of the Classification of Learning Skills

Cy Leise, Bellevue University

FourSight, an Assessment Tool

Carol Yeager, Empire State College

How to Integrate Foundations of Learning into Varied Contexts

Betty Lawrence, Empire State College

Measurement with Rubrics for Personal Growth Papers

Steve Beyerlein, University of Idaho

Partnering for Success

Dan Apple and Joann Horton, Pacific Crest

Peer Coaching of Graduate Students Developing Science Communication and Inquiry Learning Facilitation Skills

Barbara Williams, University of Idaho

Student Journaling – Periodic Free-writing Prompts and a Rubric for Student Entries

Tris Utschig, Georgia Institute of Technology

Academia Nuts

Wednesday, July 18, 6:30 PM

LOCATION: Myers center Auditorium

Listen to great oldies performed by Gaston College's Academia Nuts immediately after the Hall of Innovation.

The Gaston College Academia Nuts is a small group of Gaston College faculty and staff who sing or play a musical instrument. They were formed in 2004 to support social functions at the college. They have performed for appreciation lunches, holiday parties, public events, and appreciation dinners. They play popular music from the 60ies to the present and occasionally perform little “theatrical sketches.” To quote a celebrity “Listening to them is like a eating a box of chocolates.”